

Please, please, please do not permit cell phones on commercial airlines. Their presence will be a tremendous annoyance. If you need a safety concern, just imagine how many arguments (leading to....what?) are going to ensue when somebody talks long and loud on an airplane. His neighbor is only going to tolerate that for so long...then what? We don't need those kind of confrontations on an airline.